

Welcome . . .

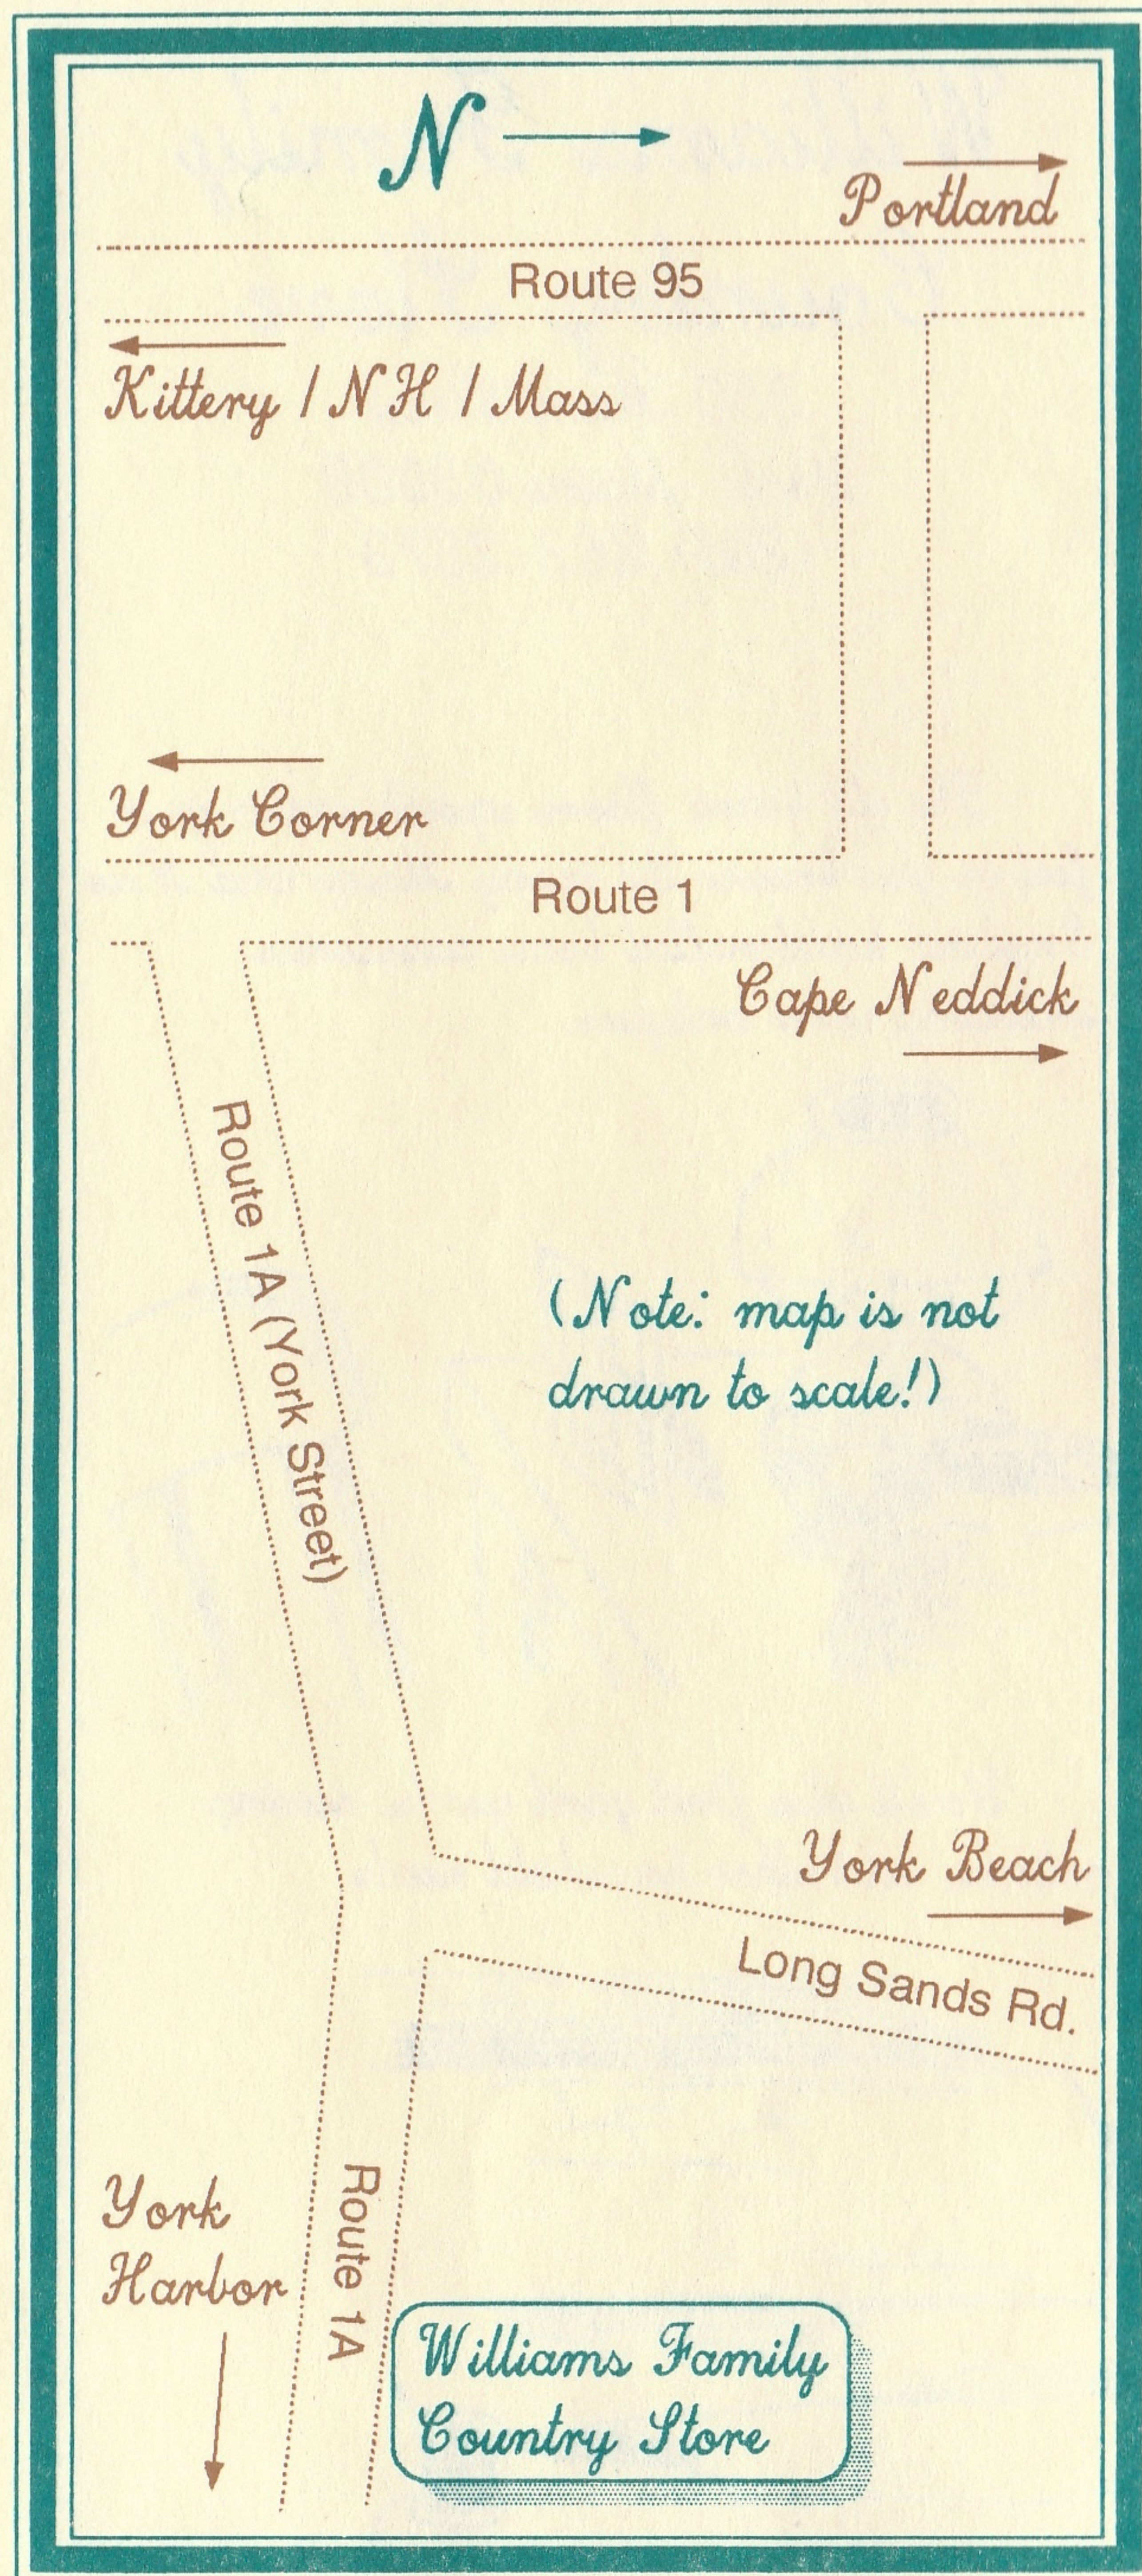

. . . to the Williams Family Country Store in York, Maine and step back into an earlier lifestyle, where a family works together to provide personal service, quality merchandise, and a friendly atmosphere. You may come in as a customer, but we think you'll leave as a friend.

The store has been in this general location since 1897, owned and operated by the Williams family for over 45 years. Jim Williams and his sister Debbie Clough are the third generation of Williams proprietors (sometimes, Mom and Dad Williams help out, too).

Williams Family Country Store is located within walking distance of several historical sites in Olde York Village, such as a beautiful New England church, a lovely public library, and the olde burying ground. All this plus the ocean, beaches, lodgings and restaurants make this part of York, Maine a must in your vacation plans.

Come into Williams Family Country Store, sign our guest book, sample our penny candy, and browse comfortably in our unhurried atmosphere. Visit with the family and take home some of our uniquely Maine products and gifts.

Once you've been here, you'll want to stay, but since we close the store at 5:00, we hope you'll come back again and again!
